The World of Textile Sourcing Comes to Dhaka: Intex Bangladesh 2026 Opens New Global Opportunities

Dhaka, Bangladesh: Bangladesh's standing as the world's second-largest apparel exporter is set to be further reinforced as the industry gears up for Intex Bangladesh 2026, one of South Asia's most significant textile sourcing show. Scheduled for 18-19-20 June 2026 at ICCB, Purbachal Express Highway, Dhaka, the exhibition will bring together the global textile value chain under one roof, opening new doors for sourcing, investment, and cross-border partnerships.

Recognised as South Asia's premier international B2B textile sourcing platform, Intex Bangladesh 2026 will draw manufacturers and suppliers from over 12 countries and regions including India, China, Taiwan, Japan, Bangladesh, Germany, the UK, the Netherlands, Thailand, Pakistan, Hong Kong, and Uzbekistan. Exhibitors will present a broad spectrum of products spanning natural and man-made fibres, yarns, fabrics, trims, accessories, dyes, chemicals, compliance services, and sustainable supply chain innovations.

With global brands rapidly diversifying beyond cotton, demand for MMF fabrics, performance textiles, recycled fibres, and traceable supply chains is accelerating. This edition directly responds to that shift, with dedicated showcases from leading textile-producing nations offering Bangladeshi manufacturers access to next-generation materials and innovative solutions.

Among the key highlights, the Incredible Textiles of India Pavilion backed by leading Export Promotion Councils such as TEXPPROCIL, MATEXIL and PDEXCIL will feature over 75 Indian companies, while the China Fashion Textiles Pavilion will showcase more than 70 companies from across leading Chinese provinces, presenting innovations in MMF, sustainable materials, garment accessories, and advanced fabrics for the RMG industry. Textile and Apparel Buyers from over 20 countries including the USA, Canada, UK, France, Japan, Argentina, India, Brazil, and the UAE are looking forward to be a part of Intex Bangladesh 2026.

The exhibition will also feature the Interactive Business Forum (IBF) Seminar Series in association with Fashion Business Journal, hosting industry leaders to address sustainability, supply chain resilience, traceability, and emerging market trends. Complementing this, the B2B Connect One-to-One Matchmaking programme will facilitate targeted meetings between buyers and suppliers to forge long-term commercial relationships. TextileGenesis joins as Official Traceability Partner, elevating conversations around digital supply chain visibility and responsible sourcing.

"Intex Bangladesh continues to serve as an important platform connecting global textile suppliers with Bangladesh's dynamic apparel industry. Such initiatives help strengthen sourcing capabilities, encourage innovation, and create valuable opportunities for collaboration across the textile value chain."

— Mohammad Hatem, President, BKMEA

"As Bangladesh continues to strengthen its position as a global apparel sourcing destination, platforms like Intex Bangladesh play a vital role in connecting international suppliers, buyers, and manufacturers. BGBA is proud to support this initiative and wishes Intex Bangladesh 2026 every success."

— Md. Abdul Hamid, President, BGBA

Having facilitated thousands of business meetings across Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and India, Intex has consistently strengthened intra-regional trade across South Asia. With its international scope, forward-looking agenda, and robust networking platform, Intex Bangladesh 2026 is poised to be the definitive meeting point for Bangladesh's apparel industry and the global textile supply chain.

Post Event Press Release

Intex Bangladesh 2026 Successfully Concludes, Strengthening Bangladesh's Position as South Asia's Premier Textile Sourcing Destination

Intex Bangladesh 2026 successfully concluded its three-day international textile sourcing exhibition at the International Convention City Bashundhara (ICCB), Dhaka, from 18-20 June 2026, reaffirming Bangladesh's growing importance as one of the world's leading textile and apparel sourcing destinations.

Bringing together 300+ booths from over 12 countries and regions, including India, China, Taiwan, Japan, Germany, the Netherlands, Thailand, Pakistan, Hong Kong SAR, Uzbekistan and Bangladesh, the exhibition served as a dynamic meeting point for manufacturers, exporters, sourcing professionals, buying houses, retailers, brands, machinery solution providers, policymakers, trade bodies and sustainability experts from across the global textile value chain.

The exhibition was officially inaugurated by senior representatives from the Government of Bangladesh, industry associations and international textile organisations. The Opening Ceremony featured welcome remarks by Mr. Rajesh Bhagat, Chairman & Managing Director, Worldex India, followed by addresses from Mr. Murali Balkrishna, Joint Director, TEXPROCIL, Mr. Md. Abdul Hamid Pintu, President, BGBA, Mr. Mohammed Hatem, President, BKMEA, and Mr. Nafis-Ud-Doula, Director, BGMEA. The ceremony also featured keynote remarks from Mr. Abdur Rahim Khan, Additional Secretary & Head of the Export Wing, Ministry of Commerce, Bangladesh, who highlighted Bangladesh's continued resilience, export competitiveness, and the growing importance of international sourcing partnerships amidst evolving global trade dynamics. The inauguration concluded with a ribbon-cutting ceremony, group photograph, VIP exhibition tour, and the official opening of the Incredible Textiles of India Pavilion.

Held at a time when global supply chains are rapidly transforming, Intex Bangladesh 2026 addressed the industry's growing demand for diversification, sustainability, traceability, innovation and resilient sourcing networks. The exhibition showcased a comprehensive range of products spanning fibres, yarns, fabrics, man-made fibres, apparel materials, trims, accessories, compliance solutions, sustainable textiles, and next-generation sourcing innovations across four dedicated exhibition halls.

A major attraction was the Incredible Textiles of India Pavilion, supported by TEXPROCIL, MATEXIL and PDEXCIL, bringing together more than 75 leading Indian textile manufacturers showcasing cotton and organic cotton products, MMF solutions, home textiles, fashion fabrics, sustainable materials and value-added sourcing innovations. The China Fashion Textiles Pavilion featured over 70 manufacturers, presenting fashion fabrics, functional textiles, polyester blends, garment accessories and advanced material innovations. Complementing these were the International Pavilion, showcasing exhibitors from Taiwan, Japan, Germany, the Netherlands, Thailand, Pakistan, Hong Kong and Uzbekistan, and the Featured Exhibitors Showcase, highlighting industry leaders specialising in fibres, yarns and innovative textile solutions for large-scale apparel manufacturing.

One of the defining strengths of this year's edition was the exceptional quality of its visitors and organised buyer delegations. Alongside thousands of sourcing professionals and buying houses from across Bangladesh, the exhibition welcomed a 10-member buyer delegation from Sri Lanka, a 25-member delegation from Chattogram, and a 5-member delegation from BKMEA Dhaka, creating valuable opportunities for focused business meetings and regional trade collaboration. Buyers represented leading apparel manufacturers, exporters, sourcing teams, product developers and retail supply chains actively seeking new supplier partnerships and innovative sourcing solutions.

The Interactive Business Forum (IBF) Seminar Series once again emerged as one of the exhibition's knowledge highlights, bringing together global industry leaders to discuss the future of textile sourcing and apparel manufacturing.

Post Event Press Release

The first session, organised in association with TextileGenesis on 18 June 2026, focused on “Advancing Traceability & Sustainable Sourcing Across Global Supply Chains.” The forum featured keynote and moderation by ABM Faqru Alam, Head of Sustainability, Urmi Group, alongside distinguished speakers and panelists including Shahana Akter Kiron (TextileGenesis), Shehan Wijethilaka (BESTSELLER Global Sourcing), Ali Arsalan (Cotton Council International), Tanjiul Hoque (Hohenstein Institute Bangladesh), Iqbal Anwarul Islam (Recover) and Md. Shamimul Haque (DBL Group). The discussions explored digital traceability, sustainable material ecosystems, recycled fibres, compliance and transparency across global supply chains.

The second session, organised in association with Fashion Business Journal (FBJ) on 20 June 2026, examined “From Factory Floor to Global Fashion Influence – Bridging the Branding Gap in Bangladesh.” Moderated by Chowdhury Quaseed, the panel featured Indrapal Singh Rawat (Norp Knit Industries Ltd.), Md Salauddin (Reaz Garments Ltd.), Hasin Arman (MB Knit & BAYLA), Kyaw Sein Thay Dolly (Cloths “R” Us Ltd.), Abdulla Al Mamun (Marks & Spencer) and Shahana Akter Kiron (TextileGenesis). The session explored Bangladesh’s journey from manufacturing excellence towards global branding, innovation, sustainability and value-added product development.

Throughout the three-day exhibition, exhibitors reported strong buyer engagement, productive business discussions, high-quality networking and meaningful sourcing interactions. The exhibition successfully connected suppliers with decision-makers from Bangladesh’s thriving apparel manufacturing ecosystem while facilitating new regional and international business partnerships.

Speaking on the successful conclusion of the exhibition, Mr. Rajesh Bhagat, Chairman & Managing Director, Worldex India, said:

“Intex Bangladesh continues to demonstrate why Bangladesh remains one of the most important textile sourcing destinations in the world. Beyond the numbers, the quality of business conversations, buyer engagement and international participation this year has been exceptional. As global supply chains continue to evolve, platforms like Intex are becoming increasingly important in connecting businesses, encouraging innovation and creating long-term partnerships that drive the future of the textile and apparel industry.”

With another successful edition concluded, Intex Bangladesh has once again reinforced its position as one of South Asia’s most influential international B2B textile sourcing platforms, providing the industry with a powerful gateway to sourcing opportunities, market intelligence, strategic partnerships and future-ready business growth.

India's Textile and Apparel Exports Decline 3.75% in January

India's textile and apparel exports witnessed a decline of approximately 3.75% in January 2026, reflecting ongoing global trade challenges and pricing pressures. Industry experts attribute the slowdown primarily to higher tariff barriers in the United States, one of India's key export destinations. The elevated duties impacted order volumes and competitiveness, particularly for value-added garment categories. However, recent announcements regarding tariff reductions by the US administration have brought cautious optimism to exporters. Industry bodies believe that the easing of trade barriers could improve order flow in the coming months, stabilise export momentum, and strengthen India's position in the global textile and apparel market.
