Bangladesh's Textile Future Starts with Stronger Global Connections

Arti Bhagat

Executive Director
Worldex India

*Intex has evolved
beyond an exhibition.
It has become a trusted business platform that connects textile suppliers, and buyers from across South Asia and around

As Bangladesh continues to strengthen its position as one of the world's leading apparel manufacturing nations, the need for stronger sourcing partnerships, innovation, sustainability and regional collaboration has never been greater.

Today, Bangladesh stands at an exciting point in its growth journey. The industry is moving rapidly towards value-added products, sustainable manufacturing, MMF-based apparel, functional textiles, and digitally connected supply chains. Global brands are seeking innovation, transparency, traceability, and responsible sourcing more than ever before.

Through Intex Bangladesh, we aim to support this transformation by bringing together global textile expertise, innovative materials, new technologies, and meaningful business opportunities under one roof.

This year's edition welcomes exhibitors and visitors from across Asia and Europe, creating an ideal environment for sourcing, networking, knowledge sharing, and long-term business partnerships. We are particularly proud to strengthen cross-border textile collaboration by bringing the sourcing strengths of India, China, Taiwan, Japan, Thailand, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Germany and other international markets directly to Bangladesh.

Our vision remains clear — to create a platform where businesses do not simply meet, but where partnerships begin, ideas are exchanged, and the future of the textile industry is shaped together.

I sincerely thank our exhibitors, buyers, industry associations, chambers of commerce, government bodies, and supporting partners for their continued trust and support amid geopolitical tensions and business disruption.

I wish you a productive, successful and memorable experience at Intex Bangladesh 2026 with your existing and new buyer connections.
